

PRESS RELEASE

Elevate Your Aviation Experience with aviationscouts GmbH

aviationscouts is excited to showcase the latest sustainable aviation solutions and offerings at this year's show. With over 25 years of expertise in surplus aircraft seats and interiors, we proudly hold EN9100 certification and collaborate with reputable EASA/FAA Part-145, 21G, and 21J partners.

Having recently expanded our German headquarters with a second high-rack warehouse, we've increased our total storage capacity to 18,000 sqm, full of surplus seats and cabin interiors. As the industry's largest supplier, we provide comprehensive solutions encompassing storage, logistics, seat overhauls, engineering services, and sustainable end-of-life solutions. Our extensive spare part inventory boasts over 14,000 PNs, catering to various aircraft models and complemented by a wide array of interior components.

Sustainability is at the core of our mission at aviationscouts. Through practices like reusing, upcycling, and recycling, we redefine cabin interiors while minimizing environmental impact. Our online platform, aviationgate.com, offers over 150 ship sets and 60 seat models, providing a transparent, efficient solution for operators worldwide.

We welcome visitors to our stand #7B74 to meet our international team and discuss future cabin modification programs. Discover why aviationscouts is the trusted partner for sustainable aviation solutions.
